In the above language the heads of the two parties to the printers' strike this morning expressed themselevs.

George E. Howard, of the Typothetae, declares he is urging his customers to send in more work that his men may be kept busy, and C. F. Sudwarth, who has declared for the "closed shop," says the Typothetae is a trust,
"I have practically all the men I can handle," said George E. Howard, who operates one of the biggest printing offices of the city. "Most of the new men I have put on are men who have previously been in the union but who have torn up their cards and cut loose. They are good men in every respect. Others are printers from the smaller towns and two are men who have operated small shops for themselves, but have not made it pay.

Driven in Typothetae.

"I deliberated for a long time before joining with the Typothetae, but was finally driven to it by the folly of the demands of my own men. The employers were invited to a conference with a labor committee and I went. We made them propositions and found they had no power to act. We wanted to arbitrate, but they had been instructed from Indianapolis. We asked them what they wanted and they said eight hours or strike. We asked why a conference had been called when they had no power to take any action and they practically said that the purpose was that they said that the purpose was that they might tell us of the ultimatum from Indianapolis. We objected to our business being run from Indianapolis.

"I am feeling good today. The atmosphere has cleared and the work is going forward. I am writing for some additional linotype machines to be sent on and am not troubled about getting men to operate them."

C. F. Sudwarth, of the Sudwarth Printing Company, which is one of the largest of the establishments employing union men, this morning spoke freely of his views of the situation, and of the action of the Typothetae.

The Typothetae is a trust, and the central office is in the Star building, where the secretary is maintained.

"I, myself," he continued, "worked at the case for twenty years, and I believe the Job printers are entitled to what they demand. They are the only men in Washington working at trades who work more than eight hours. In the past twenty years the wage scale of the job printer and his working day have remained the same $3 and nine hours. Trouble and Never Suspect It.

To Prove What the Great Kidney Remedy, Swamp-Root, Will Do for YOU, Every Reader of The Washington Daily Times May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Absolutely Free by Mail

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly yourentire body is affected, and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly" begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Rcot, because as soon as your kidneys begin to get better they will help all the other organs to kealth. A trial will convince anyone.

a boy following the lead of Mosby were also prey to the flames. These and many other priceless treasures were ruined. Most of Mr. Bryan's rare library on the first-floor was saved. The family spent today in replenishing their wardrobes, all of which were lost. The sycamore, and though there were many offers of temporary habils ents none were of proper length, and one of them, at least, spent the morning in overcoat and pajamas.

Laburnum, under separate owners, has been three times burned, and the insurance of $30,000 on the house goes only a short way to paying for the loss of Sanday's fire.

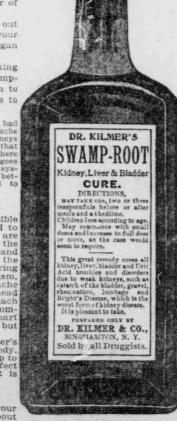

Young Mrs. St. George Bryan, who was temporarlly living at Laburnum until her own home was ready lost all of her town to medical science.

How To Find Out

If there is any doubt in your mind as to your condition, take from your urine on rising about four ounces, place it in a glass or bottle and let it stand twenty-four hours. If on examination it is milky or cloudy, if there is a brick dust settling, or if small particles float about in it, your kidneys are in need of immediate attention.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take. If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at the drug stores everywhere. Don't make any most successful remedy for kidney, liver and bladder troubles.

EDITORIAL NOTE.—So successful is Swamp-Root in promptly curing

EDITORIAL NOTE.—So successful is Swamp-Root in promptly curing even the most distressing cases of kidney, liver, or bladder troubles, that to prove its wonderful merits you may have a sample bottle and a book of valuable information, both sent absolutely free by mail. The book contains many of the thousands upon thous ands of the testimonial letters received from men and women cured. The value and success of Swamp-Root is so well known that our readers are advised to send for a sample bottle. In sending your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure to say you read this generous offer in The Washington Daily Times. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

Those Who Want Good Printing Without Delay

Several months ago the men engaged in the book and job branch of the printing industry-about 250-asked their employers to decrease their hours from nine to eight, to take effect on January 4, when their contract with the employers expired. All other men in the printing trade-about 1,700-both private and governmental, have for many years enjoyed the shorter work-day, and in every other trade in the District of Columbia eight hours has long since been the established workday.

The following firms recognized the justice of the request and granted the eight-hour day to their employes. Among them will be found the leading firms in the city, fully equipped to execute all orders promptly and satisfactorily. They should be pat-ronized by all those who believe in the principle of "eight hours for work, eight hours for sleep, and eight hours for rest or recrea-
